1. Introduction

This procedure sets out the process for dealing with a grievance and helps to understand what is expected and what needs to be done by all parties. The framework has two broad stages – an informal stage and a formal stage as detailed below, and a process specifically where an employee has a grievance against the Head teacher.

- 1.1 Where a meeting or hearing is called to deal with a grievance, it is expected that the employee will attend.

2. Objectives

- 2.1 To enable an employee or group of employees, to raise a grievance relating to their employment and receive a timely and appropriate response from school leaders or governors, with a view to reaching a satisfactory outcome.
- 2.2 Where an employee or group of employees pursues a grievance in good faith that is not upheld then no action will be taken against the employee. However if school leaders or governors find that an employee has knowingly misused the procedure for malicious or vexatious motives, then the employee concerned will be subject to disciplinary action.

3. Exclusions from application of the Grievance Procedure

There are instances where the application of the Grievance Procedure is not appropriate. Employees are excluded from using the Grievance Procedure in the following circumstances:

- 3.1 If a teacher (including a head teacher) wishes to appeal against any decision of the governing Body in relation to his/her pay or any other decision taken by it under the School Teachers' Pay and conditions Document that affect his/her pay, s/he should invoke the school's Appeals Procedure which is in the school's Pay Policy. The Appeals Procedure performs the function of the school's grievance procedure on teachers' pay matters and therefore decisions under that procedure are final. This does not affect teachers' statutory employment rights.
- 3.2 Where an employee is the subject of the Disciplinary or Capability procedures. If an employee has a grievance about an unrelated matter, this may be pursued simultaneously but arrangements under the Disciplinary/Capability Procedure will take precedence over those relating to a grievance.
- 3.3 Where the employee brings or is the subject of a complaint under the Dignity at Work Procedure. If an employee has a grievance about an unrelated matter, this may be pursued simultaneously but arrangements under the Dignity at Work Procedure will take precedence over those relating to a grievance.

- 3.4 Where an employee makes a protected disclosure under the Confidential Reporting (Whistle blowing) procedure, unless the employee actually indicates that the making of the disclosure constitutes the raising of a grievance. An employee can choose whether to raise a concern as a grievance OR as a protected disclosure.
- 3.5 Where an employee seeks to express grievances about matters over which the employer has no control e.g. health & safety legislation.
- 3.6 Where a group of employees have grievances which amount to a collective dispute and which have not been subject to consultation or negotiation.

4. Procedural Timescales

- 4.1 Employees should raise grievances on a timely basis in order to ensure that the matter can be fully investigated and resolved satisfactorily. Any grievances which are not raised within 8 working weeks of the event occurring, or final event where there is a sequence of events, will be considered out of time, unless there are exceptional circumstances agreed by management e.g. in cases of sickness.
- 4.2 Time limits are specified at each stage of the procedure. These are intended to ensure the speedy resolution and to avoid delays. While the intrusion of school closure periods may make strict application of the timescales impractical, every effort should be made to adhere to them. In such cases timescales should if possible be extended by mutual agreement and where no agreement is reached, the school reserve the right to give notice in writing of an extension of the timescales and the reasons why
- 4.3 If a grievance is not dealt with within a specified time limit, the employee will have the right to proceed to the next stage of the procedure. Where an employee or their nominated representative fails to comply with a time limit, the application of the procedure will cease and the grievance will be considered settled or withdrawn, unless it is agreed that the failure was not the fault of the employee or their nominated representative. This will not apply if the Headteacher and the employee agree that the time limits should be extended.
- 4.4 The timing and location of meetings should be reasonable and the employee must take all reasonable steps to attend. If the person accompanying the employee cannot attend on a proposed date, the employee can suggest a suitable alternative date/location. This should not be more than 5 working days after the date originally proposed by the Headteacher. The Headteacher may agree an alternative date if this timescale cannot be met but they are not required to do so.

- 4.5 Employees cannot restart the procedure in respect of a grievance which has been dealt with within the previous six month period.

5. Records

- 5.1 Records should be kept detailing the nature of the grievance raised, the employer's response, any action taken and the reasons for it.

6 Informal Stage

- 6.1 Most routine complaints or grievances are best resolved informally through discussion between the employee and their immediate line manager/ Headteacher (or Chair of Governors where the aggrieved is the Head teacher) Dealing with grievances in this way can often lead to speedy resolution of problems. It is in everyone's best interests to resolve grievances quickly and fairly at the lowest level.

- 6.2 An employee with a grievance shall first raise it with their

- line manager
- Headteacher or
- Chair of Governors (where the aggrieved is the Head teacher)

Where reasonable and practical, a reply will be provide either orally, or in writing, within 5 working days of the grievance being raised.

Reasonable enquiries will be made to enable a response to be provided. Employees who are trade union members may wish to make contact with their trade union at this stage.

- 6.3 If the employee's immediate line manager (or the Chair of Governors where the aggrieved is the Head teacher) is the subject of the grievance, the employee will have the right to have the grievance considered by the Head teacher (or proceed to Stage 2 of the formal procedure where the aggrieved is the Head teacher). The employee should submit the grievance in writing to the Head teacher (or Vice Chair of Governors where the aggrieved is the Head teacher). In these circumstances the manager may be provide with the opportunity to express their views about the matter without the employee being present.

- 6.4 Where a grievance cannot be resolved informally, or the employee indicates they wish to proceed immediately to the formal stages, it should be dealt with as set out in paragraph eight. A copy of the grievance procedure will be provided to the employee at this stage.

7. Mediation

- 7.1 The School supports the use of mediation as a way forward to resolving grievances prior to the formal procedure.
- 7.2 Formal mediation may be offered to disputants before moving to the formal stage.
- 7.3 Not all forms of dispute are suitable for mediation and this will be assessed by the mediator(s) assigned to the case.
- 7.4 The mediator will liaise with the employee who has raised the grievance and any other parties with a view to resolving the grievance.
- 7.6 Where mediation is not available or has been unsuccessful, the formal grievance procedure is available.
